

A photograph of Adam Molai, a Black man in a dark blue suit and red tie, standing in a hospital or clinical setting. He is looking towards the camera with a slight smile. In the background, a person in a light blue surgical gown and cap is visible, working at a table. The scene is brightly lit, typical of a hospital environment.

Adam Molai discusses African Entrepreneurship and Intra-African Trade - SAT Interviews.

Adam personifies the new breed of African entrepreneur, challenging established international players across all industries, while driving a new socio-economic agenda for Zimbabwe and the continent.

By The South African Times

17 August 2022

Adam served his articles with Ernst and Young in Zimbabwe, before proceeding to the University of Buckingham in the UK where he graduated with a business degree. He then went to Lakehead University in Canada, where he obtained a first-class degree in Commerce.

CLICK HERE TO WATCH